Class of 1948,

Villa Maria College

Presents

The Mariolæ

Sister M. Doloretta, Dean

To Sister Doloretta, friend and helpful adviser to each of us, the Class of 1948 proudly dedicates the first issue of the "Mariole."

From the very hour we entered Villa Maria to pursue one of the varied and interesting fields offered, she, through her tireless efforts to even better conditions for "her girls," has been a constant inspiration.

Due to her talent and foresight, our College has grown and developed not only from a pedagogical standpoint, but, equally as important, from a cultural standpoint as well.

The memory of her energies so unselfishly spent for us will live on in our hearts and guide us always towards what is right and good.

WHO'S WHO

CLASS PROPHECY

First Mary Tunney with pep and poise
Will have a husband, home, and boys.

We see Mary Ann Specter and Ann Smith with knittin'
While Jane Foy runs the Rockefeller Kitchen—

And Ann Forssell balances the government's headache—
The national budget—with red ink and red tape.

Thru the years Betty Rentja holds the Russians in place
With potent chem mixtures which settle each case.

Bibbs Gallagher is heading a vast office force,
Alice Redman forwards biology by dissecting the horse.

Marge Nachman's a prosperous matron instead;
School principal, mother, and garden-club head.

Rita Haraczy's in Bolivia reshaping their speech;
Where Forrestine Parson has student nurses to teach.

While back in America, our first woman president
Is now Mary Kalkhof, an old Villa resident.

Jean Marsh is known as "59's Leading Mother"
And Marcella Munch is publicity head for the show "Wed Another."

BY EILEEN KIRSCH

Mary Lou Natale does the Continent each year—
She travels and lectures at "5 bucks a year."
Alicia Berrios has a quiet domestic life
And so Gini Brown, now a New Yorker's wife.
Peg Gloekler has advanced a great social change
She's promoting a kitchen with men "home on the range."
Marriane Neely is a famous prose writer,
While Anne Mizner's piano makes concerts much brighter.
Marie Detzel runs a charity ward;
Evelyn Webster advises the aged and bored.
Dorothy Morris has long sought her fame on the stage,
Her career will someday be "Broadway's rage."
Jean Muller is prefect of an exclusive girls' school;
Screen star A. T. Boudon swims a Hollywood pool.
Phyllis Yapple has taken a chemistry chair
At Johns Hopkins U., and she's settled down there.
While Lenore Abramowski types foreign papers for shipment,
And Ellen Conwell designs laboratory equipment.
Fashions for the kitchen, long skirts and short aprons,
Are modeled by LaRue Smith to wealthy, young matrons.

Treasurer—Theresa Romeo

The Student Council under the personal supervision of Sister M. Doloretta, Dean of the College, acts as the students' voice in school affairs. It coordinates all student activities. Many and varied are the questions it considers and the projects it undertakes. During this school year the council has done such things as sponsor an open house dance with Gannon College, issue student identification cards, and back the school play, "The Would-Be-Gentleman."

Secretary—Jeanne Muller
Treasurer—Mary Tunney

Vice-President—Mary Hayes
Corresponding Secretary—Ann Hill
Faculty Adviser—Sister M. Clemenza

The Alice Meynell Literary Club has increased the student appreciation of the fine arts, especially literature, furthered the development of the audio-visual aids in the English department, and contributed much to the general welfare of Villa Maria College.

It is the only organization in the school which has published a paper of its own, the "Meynell Mirror," under the editorship of Ann Forssell.

VILLALOGUE STAFF AND PRESS CLUB

OFFICERS

President—Bibbs Gallagher

Secretary—Rita Connelly

Vice-President—Marjory Daugherty

Treasurer—Kathleen Gallagher

Comprised of the Villalogue Staff and anyone else interested in journalism, the Press Club is a social organization which offers many advantages to its members. Though this is only the first year of its existence, already it has achieved success as a worthwhile society. Press cards have been given as novel tokens of membership.

Row 1: T. Romeo, O. Parrini, M. Neely, A. Pistory, B. Gallagher, T. Slaven, A. M. Vouch, E. Conwell, A. T. Boudon, A. Forssell.

Senior Officer—Marjory Daugherty

Junior Officer—Berta Shipley

Faculty Adviser—Sister M. Virginia

The fine music presented by the Glee Club under the able direction of Sister Virginia has enriched many of the ceremonies traditional at Villa Maria College. Who will forget the dignity and beauty of their Christmas radio program, or the thrill of marching through candlelit, evergreen-trimmed halls the night of the Christmas Dinner to the joyous sound of Carols?

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

I. R. C. CLUB AND N. F. C. C. S. DELEGATES

This is the first year the students have attempted to publish a yearbook for the entire college. The staff this year is hampered by no tradition which must be honored and by no precedent which must be followed. This book was established not only for the purpose of giving the student body an account of life at Villa Maria but also to fix a goal and break a path for future efforts along the same line.
